The Mirage is intended for the students of Lancaster High School. It has become the historical compilation of aspirations, inspirations, and motivation that has brought many students to this point in time in their educational career. The Mirage will take on added importance in retrospect of the last twelve years.

It comes at a time when seniors see a very immediate objective about to be realized, but it must only be the first of many significant goals yet to be realized.

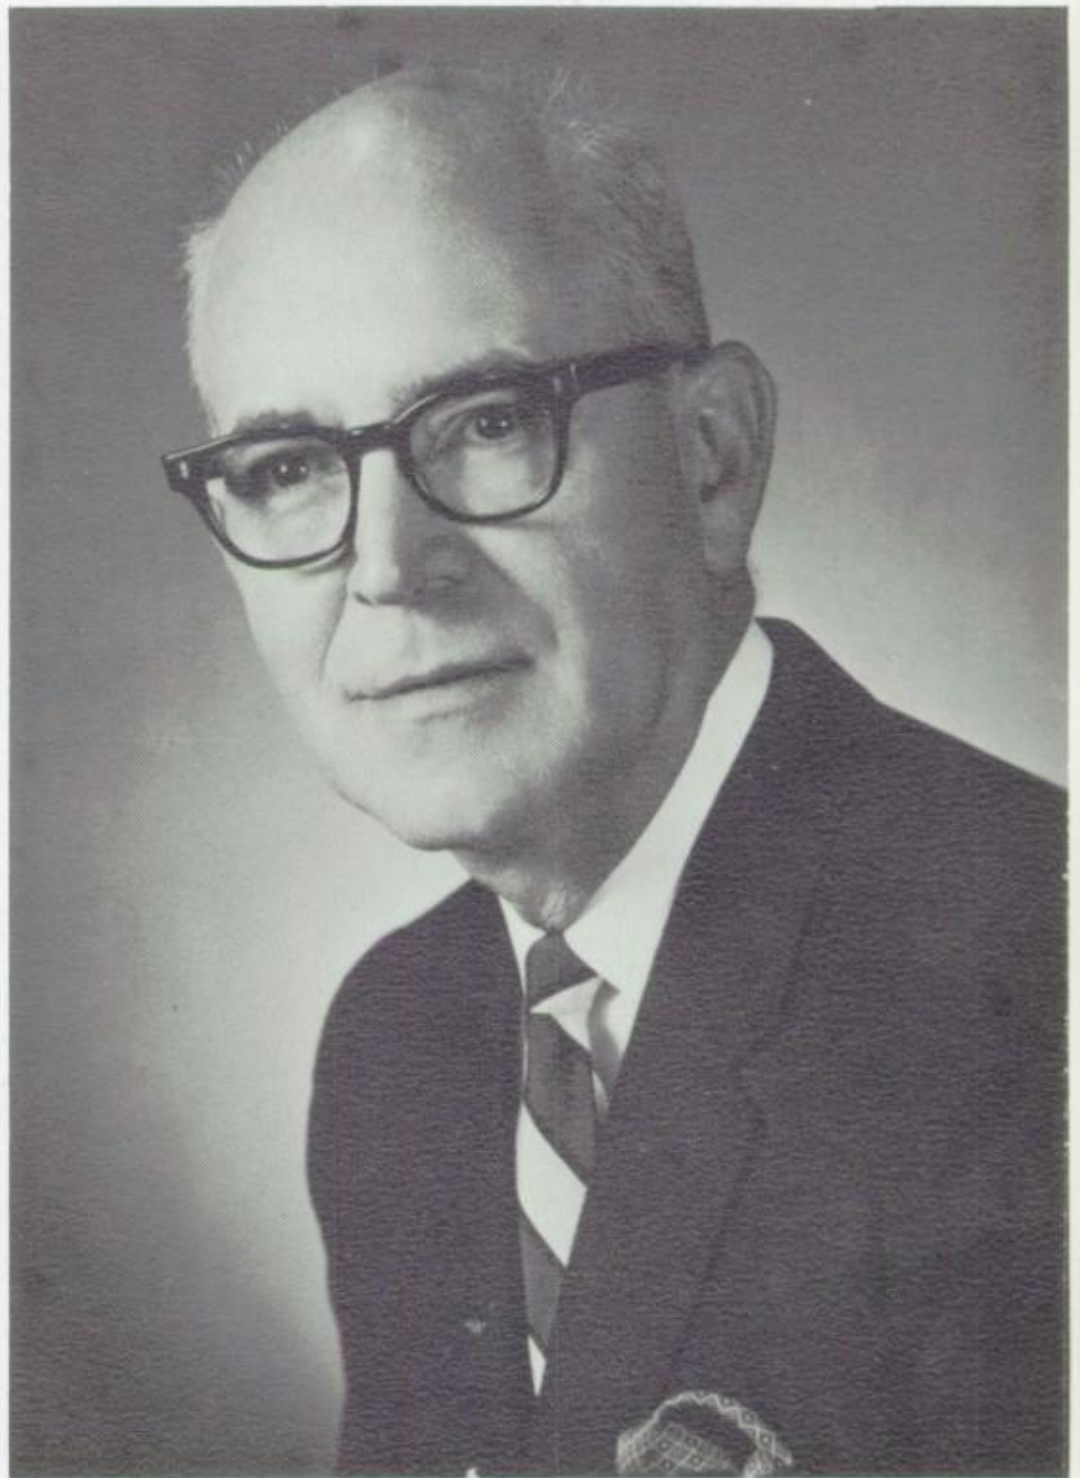

It comes at a time when students still enrolled must learn more and more in a much shorter space of time.

This community has done extremely well in providing the opportunity for a quality education for those who wish to attain it.

The real future of a community is the intellectual and moral strength of its citizens. The Lancaster City Schools will continue its thrust forward for greater quality in education. We desire that each student has the opportunity to reach the maximal limits of his individual ability intellectually and morally.

Those of us who have had even a small part in your educational program are proud of your achievements as of this date. We offer greatest hope for your future.

With the constant shrinkage of distance in this now-small-world, the expression "for horizons," which not too long ago was an exciting idea for high school seniors, must be relegated to the limbo. But now we may turn to an even more stimulating concept — "new horizons." New horizons in scientific knowledge, in technical improvements, in exotic occupations, in human relations and in innumerable other things.

What a great age in which to be born! What a great time to be young! And you are, very nearly, at the highest plateau of your learning and physical powers. Now, it is up to you to accept the challenge of your time and to make the most of the opportunities available. "You can go so far if just you will."

The Faculty

Leadership in academic, civic, vocational, and social areas are a few of the assets of the faculty of the Lancaster High School. Their main goal is to mold the character, direct the thinking, and guide the action of the community's youth so that the young people can compete mentally, physically, culturally, and morally with their fellow men. Whether there is a continuity in our democratic way of life depends upon the training given to students—the leaders of tomorrow. It is to this challenging task that the faculty of Lancaster High have committed themselves.

Enthusiastic but apprehensive, the class of '69 entered the doors of L.H.S., looking forward to three years of high school life. Although the students discovered that it was necessary to devote much time to studying, they found many activities in which to participate. The sophomores had hardly become adjusted to their new environment when it was time to build their homecoming float. The float, "Can Em Gales", awarded first place during the pre-game activities, showed the sophomores support of and dedication to their class. Homework, classes, tests, and other academic pursuits became part of their routine. They ended the year, eager to return next year as juniors.

It's nice to remember the excitement, challenge, and thrills that made this school year the best ever for the Junior Class. With zest and vigor the Juniors participated in all facets of school life. In the hushed solemnity of the Honor Society Induction and the Scholastic Awards Assembly, Juniors received recognition for their academic achievements. In athletics, the invincible Juniors displayed talent, teamwork, guts and sportsmanship, and were honored for their athletic progress at assemblies and banquets. With the capable leadership of their class officers and the cooperation of every member, the Juniors produced a lengthy list of class projects. Their money raising pennant and bake sales were huge successes, their talent show proved a lot of laughs, and the enchanting Junior Prom, "Three Coins In A Fountain," climaxed the year. This year, perhaps for the first time, Juniors really felt the friendship that binds them together and discovered the great spirit of the Class of '68.

"Think Big, Think Senior!" became the motto of the spirited class of '67. This class worked together to prove their motto. The work and fellowship experienced during the building of the float, "the greatest octopus ever," could be matched only by the pride that swelled within each individual when the project, was completed. After homecoming the class immediately started their second big project, the Senior Ball. The enchanting theme, "Somewhere My Love" provided an unforgettable evening. The delightful class play "The Silver Whistle", and class night gave opportunities to display the versatility of the class. The zest and vigor that characterized the class was evidenced at the all night party where friends not only laughed together but cried together. With the solemn commencement exercises came the realization that one chapter of life had closed only to present a larger, more challenging future.

Mirage Staff

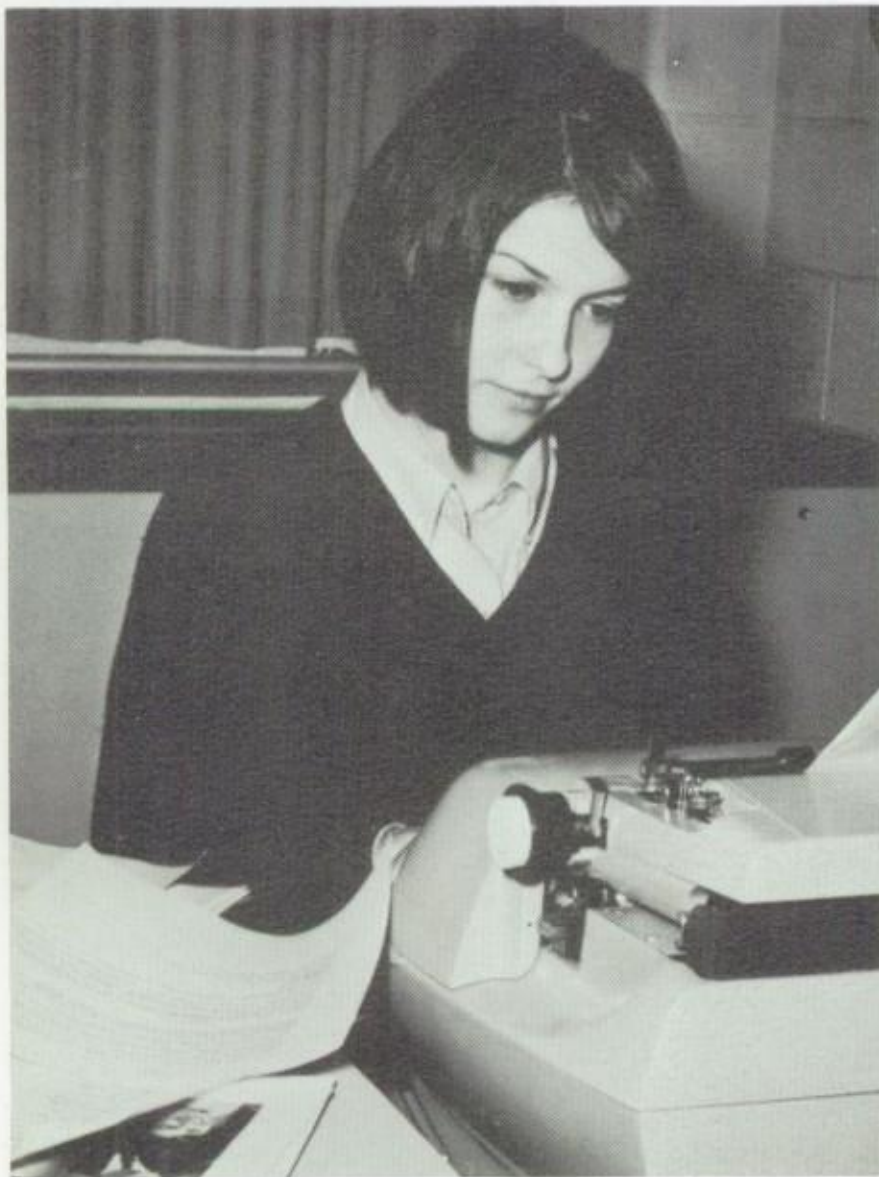

June 9, 1967 marked the end of another school year. For the sophomores the year was filled with surprises. The juniors learned more about the school and strengthened their school spirit. The seniors found this year full of challenges and they matured as they met and conquered each problem.

The year was marked with victories and a few defeats: the sophomores' first place float, the juniors' winning basketball team, and the seniors' successful class play. The sophomores have learned what is expected of them in the years to come and the juniors have accepted the responsibility to carry on the tradition of Lancaster High. The seniors led the school through another successful year, socially, scholastically, and athletically. From the knowledge gained through this year's experiences and the lessons learned in the past, the seniors are ready to accept responsibility, and they are prepared to face the future.

The Mirage Staff presents this book to the student body as a record of the year's activities and achievements.

COACHING STAFF

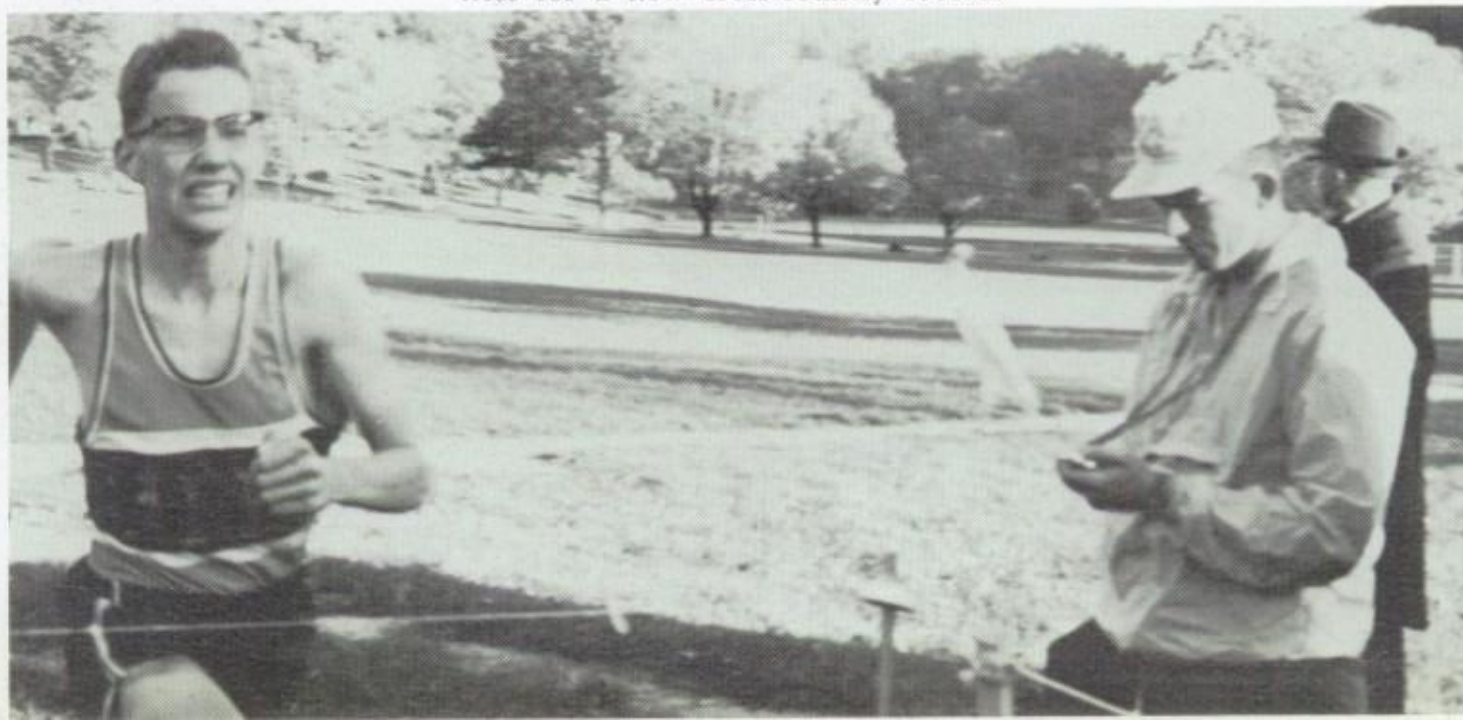

Throughout the history of Lancaster High School, there have been many champion teams. Lancaster has earned the reputation as a forceful athletic institution. Occasionally these successful teams have had their problems, and at times it seemed almost impossible to win. However, when the chips were down, there was a guiding force which prevented the contestants from despair. This stabilizing element was found in the coaching staff. Coaches who had faith in the teams and in the program spent long hours at the practice sessions. They also spent many hours of tedious work at night in preparation for the next day. Because of this unselfish dedication, a group of talented coaches have been able to whip up a championship unit from an equally dedicated team. To these inspiring leaders we express our gratitude.

CROSS COUNTRY

Late last summer a large group of boys gathered together under the guidance of Coach Bob Reall to practice and become this year's cross country team. Led by able-bodied and dedicated seniors such as Dave Martens and John Wharton, the Lancaster Harriers became the runners-up for both the District and C.O.L. titles, fifth place in the Ashland College Invitational, 13th in the Columbus Regional Meet, and 16th in the State Finals at Ohio State. Cross Country, having existed at Lancaster High School for only four years, shows great promise by this year's Harriers. Coach Reall has great expectations for next year's season even though he is losing several talented seniors. Chris England gave Lancaster the best place ever in the State Finals and Gary Graf is a very capable reserve runner.

Debbie Crist, L.H.S.'s track and cross-country queen, set many new records during her high school reign, and was an outstanding participant in the Women's National A.A.U. cross-country meet held at St. Louis, Missouri.

Chris England, Lancaster's Cross Country Runner, demonstrates that hard work and consistent practice pay off.

FOOTBALL

Jeff Grundtisch plows through the opposition in another of his outstanding running attempts.

Ending the 1966-67 football season with a 5-5 record and a C.O.L. record of 4-1, Lancaster's team has become, for the second consecutive year, the sole owner of the Central Ohio League Championship. Last year almost all of Lancaster's starting up graduated. In the beginning of the season the Gales lost four out of five of their non-league games. This, however, did not stop the team from achieving the top. By determination, desire, faith, and guts the gridders were able to overcome almost insurmountable odds. The team of 1966-67 will always be remembered as the "Team of Dedication".

Earl Jones, Coach of the Year, led the varsity football team to its third consecutive COL championship.

Since swimming is a relatively new sport at Lancaster High School, one might be expected to have a hard time finding enough tankers to develop into a good team. However, fifteen boys made up the varsity squad this season. The team earned a respectable 2-9 record.

Coach Jack Mullen was pleased with the individual improvement in such participants as Andy Coen, Rick Treen, and Doug Richardson.

With a nucleus of experienced members returning, the future of the Gale Tankers looks optimistic.

With two lettermen returning this year Head Coach George Hill and his assistant Corky Sparks optimistically looked forward to the coming season. After many weeks of practice, the varsity team was finally chosen. In a short time the rough edges were rounded off, and the Gale cagers were ready to begin their new season.

Starting slowly the Gales gathered force and were soon on their way to a 13-game winning streak interrupted by only 2 losses.

In the midst of this rally Rex Kern was able to break the school record twice by scoring the most points in one game: 40 points against Portsmouth and 44 points against Ironton.

Finishing the regular season in second place in the C.O.L., the Gales defeated McClain 46-38 in the Sectional Tournament at Paint Valley. However, the next night they lost to Miami Trace in a close 65-69 finish. The Gales ended the season with an overall record of 15-5.

In a relentless battle with Newark, Gale guard Rex Kern, literally "ties up" a Wildcat foe.

Exhibiting the fine outside shooting for which he is known, Greg Montague jumps high for another basket.

Greg Montague pops another shot toward the basket in the opening minutes of the Marietta game.

Finishing this season with a 2-4 dual-meet record, and placing second in the C.O.L. were some of the fine achievements of Coach Watson's Golden Gale Grapplers.

The team also placed second in the Big Four tournament and the Sectional meet.

Lancaster had two individual champions in the C.O.L., and six Gales won places in the Sectional tournament. For the first time in wrestling at L.H.S., a grappler, Dave Camp, scored in the State Tournament.

Though many of the varsity cindermen graduated last year, the 1966 Gales brought honor to the team and the school. The Gales competed in meets in Cincinnati, Columbus, Berea, and the District.

Four school records were broken, including the mile run by Dick Scherf in 4:26.4. Two new C.O.L. records were set as well as a new District record, 1:58.5 in the 880 run by Bruce Trousdale.

These accomplishments were possible because of the exceptional training by Coach Hamm and Coach Reall. These men provided the driving force behind the dedicated and spirited '66 Gale Track Team. The Gales ranked third in the C.O.L. and won their third consecutive championship in the South-eastern District.

BASEBALL

Lancaster High School is proud of Coach England and the Gale diamondmen who have completed another successful season. The Gales compiled a 15-5 record, including tournament action.

Winning 13 out of 16 games in their regular season, the Gales went on to the C.O.L. Tournament, bowing to Ironton 2-4. In the State Sectional Tournament the L.H.S. team defeated Hillsboro 5-1 and Chillicothe 2-1 to become the Sectional Champs. However, the diamondmen lost their opening game in the Semi-Finals to Ironton 2-3 in 8 innings.

With tense anticipation some Gale players watch the game.
